

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, EDITOR.

HOPKINSVILLE, NOV. 22, 1881

The Indianapolis Journal nominates Arthur for President in 1884.

President Arthur will take up his residence in the White House the first of December.

The Frankfort Yeoman will be published daily during the session of the Legislature.

The government pays out $100,000 a year in pensions, besides $1,000,000 paid to clerks in the pension office.

Guiteau is carried from the jail to the court house in an iron cage. It is very much afraid that some one will shoot him.

Frank Brister, late associate editor of the Bowling Green Gazette, has taken a position on the Russellville Herald-Enterprise.

The Star Route thieves, whose cases were dismissed on a technicality, have been re-arrested and their cases will go before the grand jury.

The contest for the Speakership of the House is waxing hot with Keifer, of Ohio, Kasson, of Iowa, and Hancock, of New York in the lead.

Manager Henry E. Abbey, who conducted the Bernhardt "campaign" in this country last year, will take charge of Patti and if anybody can work up a boom for her Abbey is the man.

The Lyon County Democrat, published at Elizaville, by O'Hara & James, is the latest addition to our exchange list. It is a six column paper with a patent inside. We wish it success.

It is rumored that Mary Anderson the actress will be married on the 27th inst. to Mr. Theodore Carlton, a native of Louisville. The marriage will take place in St. Louis. The groom is 30 years old and very handsome.

Gen. Sawyer, of the Key West, Fla. Democrat is the smallest editor in the world (physically). He is 20 years old weighs 35 pounds and is only 40 inches high. He is said to be well and thoroughly informed upon the usual topics of the day and is an entertaining talker.

Dr. Swift, of Warren Observatory, discovered another comet on the 16th inst. It is very faint and is supposed to be the comet of 1812. It is in the constellation Cassiopeia, and is not visible except with a powerful telescope. This is the seventh comet discovered this year.

The fourth postponement of the Willard Hotel lottery was made last week with the understanding that no further postponement would be allowed by the commissioners. The drawing will have to come off Feb. 14 or the ticket money will be refunded.

The Danville Tribune wants every Republican member of the next Legislature to imitate the example of Jno. D. White during the last session, and make a fool of himself. The same sanguine soul is confident the Republicans will elect a Governor of Kentucky in 1883.

The many friends of our popular Congressman Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie will no doubt be gratified to know that his health is still improving. His eyesight is almost as good as it ever was and his general health is greatly improved and is still improving. He will start for Washington, D. C. on the 28th proximo.

The Pollywag and Pioneer the two Dixon papers have been consolidated and the publishers, Messrs. Bishop & Price promise to make the best paper ever published in Webster county. The Pollywag, gracefully bids farewell to the "big boys" of the Press by thanking them for their courtesy in "swooping even" with such a "little scamp of brass and impudence."

The Hopkinsville Republican rejoices over the victory of the Readjusters in Virginia. We knew that the former proprietor of the Republican was a readjuster of honest doubts, but we hardly thought its present honorable and gentlemanly editor would for a moment countenance such readjustment, either in state or private matters. Repudiation is but another name for dishonesty.

J. Stanley Brown, private secretary of the late President has tendered his resignation to take effect December 1st. It was President Arthur's wish that he should act in the capacity of private secretary to him also, but as he is preparing the biographical papers of the late President, at the request of Mrs. Garfield, he was compelled to offer his resignation in order to devote his time to the work.

The Paducah Enterprise says: Oregon has hit upon a new plan to keep her citizens sober. A drinking man is required to take out a license costing two dollars a year. Unless armed with this document he cannot get into any hotel or saloon, for it is a penal offense for the proprietors of these establishments to sell to any person without a license. Every six months the names of the persons who take out these licenses are to be published in the local papers, so that the public may know who are, and who are not authorized to drink.

RAILROAD TALK.

We have not wasted much breath upon the question of a railroad through the southern part of the county, for two reasons. First, because we have not thought the railroad would be built as easily in reality as it is being constructed on paper, and secondly, because we believe the Louisville & Nashville road would build a branch from this city to some point on the new road and undo all the great things that Clarksville claims will be accomplished, to the detriment of Hopkinsville. If the L. & N. road did not do this Hopkinsville could itself build and equip a road tapping the Clarksville & Princeton branch at the nearest point, for $100,000. It is merely a question of time when a road will be built from Hopkinsville to Canton and this is really of far more importance to our city than the other road. In the first place we do not believe the C. & P. branch will be built. The speakers propose for the company to build four-fifths, if the people will build one-fifth and grant a right of way.

They claim that the road will cost $20,000 per mile. Now it must be something like fifty miles from Clarksville to Princeton which would make the road cost a round million dollars. The people would have to raise $200,000 and to be plain we don't believe they would if they could, or could if they would. Clarksville, the city that expects to be benefited most by the road, is not in a condition to do anything to help it along. Like the whole State of Tennessee, Clarksville, is in anything but a healthy financial condition. She reminds one of the Greenback orators who know exactly how to pay off the National debt, but couldn't pay for a $100 Confederate bond when they were selling at $2.00 per hundred. But overlooking all these things and granting that the road will be built we do not see that any irreparable harm would be done our county or city. The lands in the section of country intersected by the road would be enhanced in value and the revenue of the county correspondingly augmented. There cannot be much harm in this. Then we have shown how the outlay of $100,000 could thwart the purpose of the road entirely.

We should not console ourselves with the reflection that the Legislature will interfere in our behalf. The charter procured by Capt. Allen and approved April 15, 1880, does away with the old one, which required the road to pass through this city. If this were not the case the Representatives of Trigg and Caldwell counties could easily get a charter that would leave us out in the cold. We might as well realize first as last that if the project is carried through the road will be built. It will then be time enough for us to begin to talk the matter over. We can easily hit upon some plan to save Hopkinsville from the clutches of her Tennessee rival. The two cities have been rivals for several decades and Clarksville has been the sufferer. She has become impoverished by trying to put on too much style and Hopkinsville has been slowly and surely advancing, with "pay as you go" for her motto and to-day she is in a healthy financial condition with the carpenter's hammer ringing upon almost every street, as improvements are going up, and with her population doubling every decade. If Clarksville wants any thing from Hopkinsville she can get it. It will be an easy matter to whip a beaten enemy. Let her come on with her railroad and she will find that all her schemes will amount to nothing, so far as Hopkinsville is concerned. If we must clinch in our more death struggle and declare "war to the knife and knife to the hilt" then, "lay on McDuff," etc.

Gen. Jno. B. Hinton died at Winchester last week.

The Russellville Messenger is talking for strong stamps.

The Warren county grand jury found 173 indictments.

Sam'l. Pence a deaf mute was killed by the cars near Danville.

The Mayville Republican will be issued daily after Dec 5th.

The young people of Greenville have organized a literary society.

Highway robbers are operating in the suburbs of Louisville.

Henry Kelly will lecture in Louisville on his Arctic expedition.

A little daughter of Jno. Lewis was burned to death near Newport.

A four year old child of Louis Reich was burned to death in Louisville.

Apples are selling for 80 cents per bushel in Frankfort, says the Yeoman.

Gov. Blackburn and wife will celebrate their silver wedding next Nov.

An unknown fester was taken from the river at Louisville Wednesday.

Oscar Henry Harpel, the well known poet and printer died in Louisville last week.

Dave Flannery shot and killed Jas. Hall, without provocation, at Richmond.

Lon Norris, a Louisville prostitute was killed to death by her "friend" Barney Neumeier.

The Danville Tribune has adopted the cash plan and is going to sue delinquent subscribers.

A Brush Electric Light Company has been formed in Louisville with a capital stock of $150,000.

Thos. J. Monarch, one of the oldest citizens of Daviess county, dropped dead last week at Owensboro.

Miss Lydia Daley of Mayville attempted to suicide by shooting herself in the side near the heart.

NONSENSE.

The seventh comet—a bob-tailed one—has been discovered.

It costs ten dollars to hear Adeline Patti sing. That would take all of a country editor's Patti money.

Mrs. Ann Everett aged 74, tired of life at Dayton, O. and at Paris green. It was the last thing she ever did.

Gov. Long, of Massachusetts, issued his Thanksgiving proclamation in original poetry. It was Long-meter verse.

The matrimonial epidemic is spreading and many an old bachelor will trade off his lounge before the winter is gone.

Next Thursday is Givethanks day and we call upon our readers to bear witness that we have not rehearsed any of the stale jokes about "the annual turkey."

A Texas bridegroom has just leaped into matrimony for the fifth time and is still only 92 years old. The State ought to prohibit such early marriages.

An exchange says Jas. Campbell, of Blufftown, Indiana, and Louisa Kelsey, of Celina, Ohio, were recently married by telegraph, there being a preacher and a wedding party at each end of the wire. This way of marrying may be romantic, but it has disadvantages that cannot be overlooked.

Another attempt was made to assassinate Guiteau while he was being taken from the court house to the jail last Saturday. Wm. Jones a man mounted on horseback, who claims to have been an old army comrade of Gen. Garfield's galloped up to the assassin's side and fired at him and made his escape, although a guard fired at him as he disappeared.

Guiteau's arm was grazed but no harm was done, except that he was scared almost out of his wits.

Attorney General MacVegh's resignation has been accepted by the President. Solicitor General Phillips will be acting Attorney General till a new appointment is made.

The land family is in luck this year and seems to be sweeping both sides of the Atlantic. Lorriland is doing the business of raking in all the small change of our British cousins, and hog's lard at twenty cents a pound is taking care of that among the home-folks on this side. [Glasgow Times.]

There was a noble Kentucky youth, who, on being urged to take wine at the table of a famous statesman in Washington, had the moral courage to refuse. He was a poor young man, just beginning the struggle of life. "Not take a glass of wine?" said the great statesman, in wonderment and surprise. "Not one single glass of wine?" echoed the statesman's beautiful and fascinating wife. "No," replied the heroic youth, resolutely, but gently repelling the proffered glass. What a picture of moral grandeur was that! A poor, friar-like youth refusing wine at the table of a wealthy and famous statesman, even though proffered by the fair hands of a beautiful lady. "No," said the noble young man, his voice trembling a little and his cheeks flushed. "I never drink wine, but (here he straightened himself up, and his words grew firmer) if you have a little good old rye whiskey I don't mind trying a sip!"

A Tribute To General Green.

If any one can beat a certain West Hill boy on a composition, let him stand up and be counted.

The teacher gave them all historical subjects, and his chance to be, Nathaniel Green, with which he startled the teacher and the whole school by responding in the following unusual manner and with as much independence as though he were an old settler, instead of the old stranger in the back row: "Nathaniel Green was one of the biggest guns in the Revolution. There wasn't nothing in his name, and men by many another name were found much greener. He never made any sudden and startling success like some other, but he wasn't no slouch of a soldier. He maneuvered with the enemy and held his own with the best of 'em. But blood will tell," and it said so remarkable after all when you think that he came of a smart family. There's Verdant, who was a chivalrous enough in his way, and 'Darius' was a fly one, but Nathaniel takes the bakery." And the predestined political stump speaker of the coming age took his seat amid the unstrained applause of the juveniles. [Bartington Hawk-eye.]

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, Nov. 7th.—The following proclamation was issued from the State Department to-day:

By the President of the United States of America,

A PROCLAMATION.

"It has long been the pious custom of our people, with the closing of the year, to look back upon the blessings brought to them in the changing course of the seasons and return thanks to the All-Giving source from whom they flow, and although at this period, when the falling leaf admonishes us that the time of our sacred duty is near at hand, our nation still lies in the shadow of a great bereavement and mourning which has filled our hearts, and still finds us in sorrowful expression toward the God before whom we lately bowed in grief and supplication; and the countless benefits, which He has showered upon us during the past twelve months call for our fervent gratitude, and make it fitting that we should rejoice with thankfulness that the Lord in His infinite mercy has most signally favored our country and our people. Peace without loss to prosperity with a harvest of abundance, and in a manner sanctified by the generous compassion for the sufferers which has been called forth throughout our land. For all these things it is meet that the voice of the Nation should go up to God in devotion, homage, and thanksgiving."

Arthur, President of the United States, do recommend that all the people observe Thursday, the 24th of November, instant, as a day of National Thanksgiving and prayer, by ceasing so far as may be necessary from their secular labors and meeting in their several places of worship, there to join in ascribing honor and praise to Almighty God, whose goodness has been so manifest in our history and in our lives, and offering earnest prayers that his bounties may continue to us and our children.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 4th day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1881, and of the independence of the United States, the one hundred and sixth. CHESTER A. ABERNATHY, By the President.

JAMES G. BLAINE, Secretary of State.

Letter from a Penitentiary Convict.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 16, 1881.

Ed. South Kentuckian:

The increase in the criminal calendar, the ease and facility by which criminals obtain delays in important cases, where the welfare of society demands immediate and sure punishment, is becoming very alarming. The Monarchs, John Thixton, Mattie or any of Owensboro's big dealers can fill their orders on demand. [Owensboro Post.]

WANTED!

We have never seen a man, but to see plenty of many, and those who have caught both say the latter make the best pets. [State Journal.]

In quick return for the salute to the English flag at Yorktown, it has been arranged to repay the compliment at the Lord Mayor of London's banquet this week, by having a guard of honor bear the American flag in the procession to the Palace Yard, where bands will play our national anthem. This addition to the usual programme is as graceful as it is novel.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

In a Positive Cure

For all those Painful Complaints and Weaknesses so common to our fair population.

It will cure entirely the worst form of Female Complaints, all ovarian troubles, inflammation and Ulcers, and all other diseases, and the consequent Spinal Weakness, and is particularly adapted to the Change of Life.

It will dissolve and expel tumors from the uterus in an early stage of development. The tendency to cancerous humors is checked very speedily by its use. It restores exhausted vitality, restores the system to its normal condition, and relieves weakness of the stomach. It cures Bleeding, Headaches, Nervous Prostration, General Debility, Elopements, Dropsy, Indigestion.

That feeling of bearing down, drawing pain, backache, and headache, is always permanently cured by its use. It will at all times and under all circumstances act in harmony with the laws that govern the female system. For the cure of all Female Complaints of other than this Compound is unnecessary.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND is prepared at 23 and 25 Weston Avenue, Lynn, Mass. Price, Six bottles for $5.00. Sent by mail in the form of pills, also in the form of lozenges, on receipt of price, 10 cents per bottle. Mrs. Pinkham freely answers all letters of inquiry. Send for pamphlet. Address as above. Attention this paper.

No family should be without LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S LIVER PILLS. They cure constipation, biliousness, and acidity of the liver. 25 cents per box. Sold by all Druggists.
